The Board of Canvassers of the New York Returns Report Progress.

Slight Changes in Figures Which do Not Materially Affect the Result-Hendricks' Reception.

The Tribune on the Situation. NEW YORK, Nov. 12, 1 s. m .- Following is the Tribune's summary to be published in this morning's issue, giving the actual work accomplished

The official canvass was completed yesthe city of Buffalo, gave 200 majority terday in about thirty counties of New York. No considerable change is made in these counties from the previous accepted figures. The counties in which the important questions may arise remain to be heard from, and the final result may to be heard from, and the final result may not be determined for a week to come. In this city the canvass is expected to last In this city the canvass is expected to last ten days, and in Brooklyn nearly as long. St. Lawrence, Onterio, Cheming, Chenango, Columbia, Albany, Otsego, Niagrara, Livingston, Wayne, Ulster, Queens, Tompkins, Moutgomery and Duchess are among the others which have adjourned over. The figures furnished by the Associated Press at 1:30 o'clock on Sunday morning gave the state to Cleveland by morning gave the state to Cleveland by about 721 plurality. This has been reduced by the error in New York, and varied by slight changes, etc., elsewhere, so as to leave Useveland on that basis 425. Our own table on Thursday night gave Blaine 844; but the figures for Cattarau-The man who at such a time as gar, furnished by our special dispatches this speaks or writes words that in and confirmed by both the Associated press and the dispatches to the state committee, contained an error as big as the one here and the correction brought down that table to 408 for Blaine. So far as can yet be known the truth probably lies between the two. At any rate, there between the two. At any rate, there seems to be no reason yet ascertained for pected action by some of the board of su-pervisors. It is idle to dispute or dogmapervisors. It is into to dispute or ungular tize on a margin so narrow in a vote so large, and with so many points of irregu-larity, or worse yet, to be passed upon-its not time either to be over-sanguine of success or to give up the case. We can

AUGUSTA, MR., November 12.-A fight with hard gloves took place on one of the islands in Cobbasseo Lake yesterday forenoon between Marcellus Baker, of Boston, and Mike Barry, of Portland. There were to have been four rounds, but et the end of the third, the fight was given to Barry on a foul, though it is said be could not have come up again. There were about thirty persons present. THE HOCKING VALLEY TROUBLES A Proclamation by Governor Hoadly of ernor Hoadly at noon yesterday issued a proclamation to law-abiding citizens of Athens, Perry and Hocking Valley Countles asking them to actively assist the civil authorities in suppressing the disorder and crime now rampant in the valley, and in bringing the criminals who have destroyed life and property to punishment. The Governor says if they do there will be no occasion to send troops into the valley; but that order must prevail in those countles if it takes the entire military force of the State to accomplish it. The fact is, a reign of terror exists in the valley. People are afraid to do anything against the murderous and incendiary element among the strikers, and the Sheriffs of Athens and Perry Counties are candidates for relection and will do nothing to punish the topl crimes committed within their counties. Business men of this city are be-ginning to agitate the question whether it is not time for the authorities to put a stop to the existing condition of things, which is injuring the business interests of the city and State to an alarming ex-

THE intense enthusiasm among the Democracy of the South is very noticeable. In every village, town and city south of the Ohio the inflammatory proclamations of Manning and Barnum have been taken up and the wildest scenes enacted over the al leged election of Cleveland. The South imagines itself once more in the saddle, and the noise and glare of their enthusiasm would be alarm. ing if they had not been heard and overcome before. The South will have to wait the count just as they did in 1876, notwithstanding their bluster and threats. THE evening of the election the New York World claimed Cleveland's election in New York by 60,000 majority. The next day it dropped to 5.497. It continued to drop about and then began to shout "Beware of fraud," "Cleveland is elected."

To give the Democracy for several days a violent impression that they have elected, with the aid of St. John of the Salvation Army, a Henry Ward Beecher man to be president, and then dispute their claim, is the most effective way to take whisky out of bond that has been devised.-

on which the districts are divided. The

The Jubilee Fizzle. As a jollification demonstration the democratic "jubiles" of last night over the alleged triumph of Cleveland and the Solid South, assisted by the prohibitionists, is hardly worthy of more than brief mention. It was a miserable fizzle and was so characterized by a number of disgusted Bourbons who wear linen collars. The straggling procession of less than 300 boys and men was too much for many of the Bourbon bosses, and they discreet y went home or hid themselves in their offices or places of business. Citizens generally came up town to witness what they believed would be a rip-snorter of a demonstration, but when they saw the lay-out they, too, turned away in disgust. The great "procesh" included two bands of music, a road engine drawing three empty drays, and a lot of transparencies. There was also a display of fireworks. The howling of the small boys, coupled with the clanging of large and small bells, was the only evidence of enthusiasm. The lay-out reached a distance of a block The illuminations along the route were very cheap and scarce. Arriving at the old square a bonfire cast a glare over the prowd, and J. M. Boyd Braden has a consuming desire to get a postmaster's commission, like many another Decatur bourbon. Last night Boyd became quite enthusiastic over the jubilee, and in his childish and too previous joy he resolved to outdo all the mossbacks in an individual display but he was weeks in preparing the "surprise" which was to tickle the people and please his vanity, and besides it probably cost him a washing machine to get it up. The surprise was a gaudy picture of a big building, over which was the word: "Postoffice;" and beneath it this striking announcement: "Boyd Braden, Postmaster." It was a huge transparency, and Boyd determined to carry it through the streets himself. He reported at headquarters gleefully ready for the long tramp; but as soon as the Democratic bosses saw it, they resolved that that transparency should be squelched. Nearly all of said bosses have the postoffice itch to a certain degree, and they felt that it would be fatal to their interests to let Boyd have too much prominence in the race for the prize. One of the bosses told Boyd he had better not carry the transparency, and another came up and blew out the torch inside of it. Then to settle it another boss attempted to carry the hated thing away, but then Boyd came to the front and said he would take care of it himself, as it was his property.

All of which goes to show that in case

Cleveland is inaugurated, Boyd's little indiscretion or playfulness will probably lose him the much coveted postoffice.
